Home Delivery is Vital

Each week, our volunteers deliver groceries to over 220 households. These homes are filled with people who are homebound and can't make it to the food bank. Our group of 20 volunteers deliver to 18 different routes to make this happen.

Our barrier to serving more homebound people in Seattle? We don't have the food for it. This is an aching struggle for food banks around the country right now, we have a higher need than we do supply.

important to me to bring groceries to those who cannot go and get it for themselves. I have purpose in this. My route is the same each time, so it's special to get to know my clients better each time I see them..."

- Kim, Volunteer Driver

Home Delivery is going to continue to be a need for those with barriers to food. See this article from Food Bank News to learn about home delivery programs across the nation.

Want to Help?

Here are 3 ways to get involved in our mission to support our community...

1.) Volunteer with us!

It's a blast. Come get to know our awesome weekly volunteers and clients. This is a hands on way to serve your community - expect fun music, great people, and lunch as a thank you for your time. Sign up alone or bring a group! Here is the link to learn more: Click Here

2.) Host a Food Drive / Gift Card Drive.

Per recent Federal Government decisions, all food banks are now at a critical point of need. There are more people who need access to free, nutritious food than there have been in past years. You can help be the answer to that. The Food Bank has large donation bins and we are happy to let you use them for food drives! If you would like to do this in tandem with The Food Bank @ St. Mary's, give us a call at 206-338-7215. If you'd like to host a Gift Card Drive, we would appreciate any grocery store gift card. Please see our list of current needs here: Click Here

3.) Sign up to be a Monthly Sustainer !

A little goes a long way. One month of groceries for a family of 4 costs nearly $280; whether your donation is $5 or $100, it all helps us feed those who otherwise would not have access to feed their families. To become a monthly sustainer: Click Here
